MOVING? Please use form inside paper and give full information. Mailing list is run on Friday for following week.

Howard Paine Heads Hereford Club

Fort Worth - Annual meeting and election of officers of the Fort Worth Hereford Club was held June 28 at Paul Printing Co., offices here. Howard Paint, Nacona, was elected president; Jack Turner, Fort Worth, was named vice president and Leonard Paul was reelected secretary-treasurer. Directors to serve through the 1978-1979 year were Charles Nabbett, Dr. N. D. Timmons, Paul Murphy and Mrs. Jack Buckley. The club will again sponsor the cocktail party preceding the annual Texas Hereford Association banquet at the Oaks Inn. It was decided that since Texas Hereford Association plans a bull sale following the Commercial Hereford Half Sale at the Southwestern Exposition & Fat Stock Show, the club would not sponsor a bull sale during the show.

Fleshy Feeders Off, Thin Stockers Up During Past Week

The Food and Drug Administration's decision to reconsider restrictions against antibiotics in animal feeds is a "major victory for livestock producers and consumers alike," says John B. Slaughter, executive director of the Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association. The Fort Worth-based group represents 14,000 cow/calf producers in Texas and surrounding states.

SCRA has testified against FDA's proposed changes in public hearings in the last 18 months. We are very happy that FDA, after hearing this testimony and that of others, has backed off its original plans. The savings for livestock producers and consumers from this policy may result in millions annually," Armstrong said.

Notification of FDA's change in attitude came in a letter from Dr. Donald Kennedy, FDA commissioner, to members of the association last week in St. Louis, Mo. He said FDA would delay and possibly drop altogether regulations

Our Girl Friday . . .

By ANN SYLER

We returned from a short trip to Mexico to the news of the flooding over the Hill Country and other parts of the state — landing in San Antonio and eager to get home to see how much rain we had and what damage, if any — to find we only had 8 tenths of an inch throughout the whole affair! Now if you think that won't bring you down a peg or two . . . We did need it so badly, but then, I'm sure those folks would have gladly given us 10 or 12 inches or more if they could have.

We were also in Mexico during the rainy season and woke up one morning after a hard rain the night before and found water standing all over our bedroom floor! Our son, Jeb, was finishing up his master's degree in Latin American Studies and International Finance in Guadalajara. He was living in a beautiful house in a little town about 45 minutes from Guadalajara (a little by name — keep in mind that a "j" is pronounced as an "h" in Spanish — then make like you are laughing and you'll be able to pronounce it — Ah - hee - heek) and we took both grandchildren (age 5 and 3) with us and wouldn't have taken the world for having done so. They were superb travelers, didn't get sick, and loved every minute of it. None of us in this family have ever gotten much out of the normal "tourist" things — so instead of going to the big city we kind of did our own thing — we spent one morning climbing a mountain at Ajijic, where the local farmers have little plots of corn and beans planted and where the view of the lake below (Lake Chapala — largest natural lake in Mexico) is fantastic. They plant the corn and bean both in the same hole so that when the corn stalks grow the bean wraps itself around the stalk, and that way they don't have to put in a pole for the bean! But, my, at the abundance of other foodstuffs they could grow up there if they would. It kinda gets to us "Gringos" to see what could be done with the land. One burro way up in the mountain started braying as we were climbing, and then we could hear about 4 others all over the hills answering him! Another day we drove to the very old, very colonial village of Tapalpa. You climb to an elevation of about 5,500 ft. in 18 miles and to that place I think I will move someday! My dream retirement village. It is super beautiful, super old, and super clean — and slow paced, and quiet, and the food was good, good.

In one other small little town we found a wonderful weaving shop — I purchased such a beautiful hand woven rug — and we visited Zocoaleco, the only place in the world where they make the leather chairs and tables that we see quite a few of in shops here in the States. It is probably the dirtiest town I have ever seen! But we did get a bargain on the tables and chairs. Sure makes it easier traveling and finding these places and things when you have a son like ours who speaks the language and who had spent all his spare time, always, searching out these places. He is one of those, like us, who went to Acapulco one time and left after just a few hours — that's just not for us.

BRANGUS For Feeder Calf Profits.

Black Baldies, (Brangus/Hereford crosses), are in strong demand by feeders and bring top market prices for you!

Black Baldies are an ideal feeder animal. Ask any commercial cowman about the great calves with "a little ear". Medium-sized at birth, they make calving easy for any type of cow. They gain quickly on feed or forage, and average 75 to 100 pounds heavier at weaning than English breeds.

Brangus feeders mean fewer problems for the operator because they are adaptable to climactic extremes and are pest and disease resistant. But most important, Brangus feeders are consistently PROFITABLE. They lay down internal fat early and finish early with enough marbling to grade choice. Brangus calves are preferred — by stockers, feeders, packers, and consumers. If you want PROFIT, you need BRANGUS!

For information about scheduled events, upcoming sales, and sale catalogs, call collect: Lauren Mayhew, Secretary, Texas Brangus Breeders Association, P.O. Box 570, Sealy, Texas 77474. Tel. (713) 885-3364.

Central Texas Polled Hereford Assn. Meets August 19, Meridian

BY KENNETH RADDE

The Central Texas Polled Hereford Association will have a covered dish supper and meeting at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, August 19, in Meridian. The location will be the recently renovated and air-conditioned library building, located 1 block north of the traffic light in downtown Meridian. Each of you should bring a favorite dish (maybe something out of the Polled Hereford Cookbook?). We'll have paper plates, plastic dinnerware, bread, coffee and tea on hand. For our program we'll have George Wages, County extension agent from Bosque County, talking about "Grazing Management for Small Grain Pastures."

Over the years, the Central Texas Polled Hereford Association has become recognized as the most active area Polled Hereford Association in Texas. One of the reasons has been a conscious attempt on the part of our directors to keep you better acquainted and better informed (as in the August mailing) about the meeting and will be 19 meeting). Another example is our

So... if you have not already done so, please fill out and return your catalog ad and directory form. Remember that your catalog ads are a major source of prize money for our show. Also, please let me know right away about your sale assignments. We need a total of about 40 bulls and 20 females for our sale on October 28. We hope you can be included. Remember, our association needs you at our meeting, you and your better cattle at our Sale and Show, and your help in the form of labor, ads and donations to make our 1978 show the best ever. Show entry forms will be available at the meeting and will be mailed soon to all past exhibitors.

Central Texas Polled Hereford Assn. Meets August 19, Meridian

BY KENNETH RADDE

The Central Texas Polled Hereford Association will have a covered dish supper and meeting at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, August 19, in Meridian. The location will be the recently renovated and air-conditioned library building, located 1 block north of the traffic light in downtown Meridian. Each of you should bring a favorite dish (maybe something out of the Polled Hereford Cookbook?). We'll have paper plates, plastic dinnerware, bread, coffee and tea on hand. For our program we'll have George Wages, County extension agent from Bosque County, talking about "Grazing Management for Small Grain Pastures."

Over the years, the Central Texas Polled Hereford Association has become recognized as the most active area Polled Hereford Association in Texas. One of the reasons has been a conscious attempt on the part of our directors to keep you better acquainted and better informed (as in the August mailing) about the meeting and will be 19 meeting). Another example is our

NEWS about LIMOUSIN

Around The Limo Loop

By KEN HOLLOWAY and BRUCE BROOKS

Another exciting Limousin show and sale season is upon us. But before we expound upon our upcoming events — our breed has recently been afforded the opportunity for what can be an excellent merchandising tool for purebred or percentage Limousin bulls.

Recently a panel of progressive breeders met with officials at Oklahoma State University to set plans for the Oklahoma National Limousin Bull Test at the OSU facilities at Conners State College, Warner, Okla., 17 miles off I-40 south of Muskogee, Okla. The test will be managed by Gary Harding and supervised by Dr. Travis Rich, OSU. Limousin bulls for the test must be 75% or higher and will be divided into two divisions: Senior Division—October and November, 1977 bull calves; Junior Division—January, February, and March, 1978 bull calves. There will be facilities available for 100 head of bulls that will be delivered for the test between October 7 and 14. At that time the bulls will complete a 21 day warm-up and 140 day test period ending March 28, 1978. Culmination of the project will be a Limousin Bull Test Sale to be held in mid-April. It will not be mandatory for the test bulls to sell. For additional information or nomination forms contact Gary Harding, Conners State College, Warner, Okla.; or Ken Holloway, NALF; Hal Courtney, Madill, Okla.; or Ken Holloway, American Cattle Services.

We would like to remind everyone of probably the most awaited event in the Limousin breed — the 19th Annual NALF Convention and 8th World

Texas Limousin Association News BY WILLARD PFLUGER

Dear Members: As everyone knows, this is a hot, dry summer throughout the state. In one way or the other, everyone has their problems; dry weather, no water, no grass, and now no baling wire in most areas, but I am sure we will survive.

We are just around the corner from our fall shows. First comes Dallas with out Junior Heifer show where I hope we will have more entries than in the past. Every deadline has passed for the Dallas show, but a junior member may still purchase a heifer and have transfer of ownership completed by December 1, 1978 for entry in the Fort Worth and San Antonio shows. These heifers must be at least 7/8 percent Limousin, solid red with a very minimum of white on the underline. Show officials will be very strict on transfer papers this year. For more information, you may contact Bob Brown, Route No. 3, Quanah, Texas 79258 - Telephone 817-589-4488. Bob is chairman of all the Junior Heifer Shows in Texas.

The end result must be quality.

In order for any breed to achieve any form of supremacy in the cattle industry, quality of the breeding stock must never be weakened. Quality is at its greatest at Budrick Farms this spring. The calves put out of our fullblood cows as well as our embryo transplants have reaffirmed our belief in our great breed. We invite you to come by the ranch anytime and see these outstanding calves. We think you will agree that quality has, is, and always will be our prime concern.

Lone Star Limousin Sale Averages $679

In the Lone Star Limousin cow sale held at Lulling Livestock Commission Co. here July 29, the 117 lots grossed $79,395 for an average of $679.

The bulls have been extremely fertile, aggressive and very tolerant of the Southern heat and insects. The program's purebred Brahousin classification consists of animals developed from registered purebred Brahousins and registered purebred Limousins, 87 percent heifers and 93 percent bulls, or higher. Exact percentage of Brahousins may vary from 25 percent Limousin and 75 percent Brahousin to 75 percent Limousin and 25 percent Brahousin. Registered Brahousin bulls and cows must be recorded with NALF to be used in the program.

Under the percentage Brahousin classification, greater than 50 percent of the animal's blood would come from Limousin and Brahousin, with a minimum of 25 percent Limousin and maximum of 18.75 percent Brahousin.

This allows use of three-quarters Limousin bulls on three-eighths Brahousin blood cows. The only bulls allowed under this program are three-quarters to fullblood. Limousin registered with NALF. These bulls can be mated to purebred grade Brahousin cows or registered cows of the Brahousin-cross breeds. The program does not allow percentage Brahousins to be up-graded to purebred Brahousins.

The proposal will be up for final approval in the board's late-September meeting, and Martin urges persons interested to send their comments to his office. Complete detailed copies of the Brahousin guidelines are available from North American Limousin Foundation, 100 Livestock Exchange Building, Denver, Colo. 80216.

Limousin Bulls Are in Demand

"The Spring sales season has been a dream come true for many of the Limousin breeders across the country," reports Greg Martin, executive Vice-President for NALF. "Since the beginning of 1978, they have experienced a demand for their Limousin bulls that seems hard to believe. It all started in Denver with the percentage bulls averaging $1728 thru the National Sale. The commercial bulls sold in the Denver yards hit a $1600 average to complete the week.

Next on the consignment sale list was Sioux Falls, S. D. and the Red Carpet Sale. The two year old percentage bulls averaged a strong $1761 with the yearling bulls at $1011. Then it was the Black Hills Sale in Rapid City, S. D. with the two year old bulls making a $2000 average during the blizzard. On to Des Moines, where a large group of percentage bulls made an average of $1298. The last consignment sale and show was held in Houston, Texas, where the percentage bulls averaged $1212."

Then we started hitting the tested bull sales. The Nebraska sale saw four-year-olds average $1120. The Montana sale rang up 94 yearling lots at $1100. In Indiana the yearling bulls averaged $1256 and topped the tested averages for the all-breed sale. The Limousin sale in Abilene, Texas, saw fifty head average just under the $1000 mark. The Tested Sale at Edmonton, Canada, reported $1507 and the Canadian National Test Sale at Calgary recorded a $1294 on the percentage yearling Limousin bulls.

The production sales have been just as good. The Wiggins Sale had forty-nine lots at $875, then the O'Brien saw sixty-two lots hit $1080 in the average column. Carmichael's yearlings settled in at $1480 on fifty-two head. Yackley's commercial bull buyers paid an average of $1875 for the yearlings and $1887 for the two-year-olds.

R. Dee Cole, Auctioneer and Appraiser, Omaha, Nebraska, will judge the Oklahoma, this year, while Mrs. Ann Stover, Arabian horse breeder from Atlanta, Georgia, will handle judging duties in the Arabian Horse Show. Paint horses will be judged by Art Carpenter, Paint Horse Breeder from Wichita, Kansas. In the Quarter Horse Show, judging will be under the direction of Thomas Ryan, Manager of the Frank Coker Farms in Blackstone, Virginia. The Open and Non-Pro Cutting event will be judged by Quarter Horse breeder Bill Morris, from Valley View, Texas. Lynn Griffin says there will be no hog and sheep show this fall, but the Rex Baxter Cattle Building will be ready for the youth show in January.

SANTA GERTRUDIS NEWS

Reports from breeders who sell bulls privately indicate the bulk of sales have ranged from $800-$1200 with many selling in groups of ten head or more. Groups of twenty have been requested more often than they were available. There definitely is a strong demand for Limousin bulls.

Tri-State Fair Judges Named

Final selection of judges for the various livestock shows scheduled for the 1978 Tri-State Fair has been completed. Lynn Griffin, General Manager of the Tri-State Fair, has released names of qualified judges representing eight different states.

Dr. Angelotti Quits USDA Post, Stormy Administrator of FSQS

House subcommittee on livestock and grains that Dr. Angelotti had visited packing plants in Colorado and California in company of Herb Silverstein, who is with Quad Corp., a consulting firm. Silverstein arranged the tour, Angelotti testified, "without fanfare" and so he in the open it appears folks in the livestock and meat business have lost none of their talent for spottin' a phoney. They been tryin' to get shed of him for a long, long time before Carol Tucker Foreman finally decided he was too hot to handle and was gittin' the temperature in USDA's kitchen to the unbearable point. Meat industry critics of Dr. Angelotti must have got a big grin out of the discovery by USDA's Office of the Inspector General that Angelotti had padded his expense account with $17 worth of food and transportation expenses he did not really incur — Hassell, Brothers.

Another bright spot in the Bureaucratic Regulatory scene has developed in the matter of nitrates and nitrites as preservatives for meat products. Here again the FDA and the Agriculture Dept. have announced a slow down in moves to ban these chemicals as possible cancer threats. A new study by Massachusetts Institute of Technology says these preservatives "may" possibly be dangerous, but the question of whether their removal might be even more dangerous brings up the problem of whether they may be more important in protecting people from botulism.

TV most interestin' thing to come out in this controversy is the fact that USDA estimates that 20% of the nitrates and nitrites enter humans comes from their use as meat food additives. However, 80% of these substances get into our human crawls through green and leafy vegetables such as lettuce, celery, etc. When these vegetables are ingested our digestive system makes them change from nitrates & nitrites to the proven cancer causing substances called nitrosamines. These nitrosamines developed by our own bodies are apparently harmless with no problems and there is reason to believe that unless humans ingested the chemical in amounts equal to the way these drugs are stuffed into lab animals, there is no cause for alarm.

At least FDA & USDA are showin' a willingness to go slow and not jump to any conclusions or try to stampede the country before there is an assessment of the value or lack of it in the proposals to ban 'em. This has to be a sign that there is gittin' to be some horse sense among the All Highs in the Bureaucracy. There is little doubt that this reasonableness on the part of the Bureaucrats stems from the horns' nest they stirred up when they arbitrarily banned saccharin without adequate proof it really was hazardous. We can thank Congress for this little deed of halter breakin' the Bureaucrats and these little rays of sunshine indicate we may be comin' out of a fog on this matter of jumpin' to conclusions. We hope so.

Ever thine,
The Editor.

P. S.: Uncle Dunk figgers recent developments like the forced resignations of Dr. Bourne and Dr. Angelotti and other bigwigs in the Administration are likely to breed a little caution among some of the others. High handed "above the law" attitudes in Govt are no more popular with the people than they were durin' the Nixon crowd. Dunk says now that the Angelotti affair is out might talk with both industry and plant people without being identified as to his job. The possibility of conflict of interest since it might appear that Silverstein had "special influence" with the administrator of the FSQS with operators of packers who are regulated by that Bureau roused Chairman Bob Poage to appoint a three-man committee to investigate the matter. The information that Dr. Angelotti was in trouble with the USDA and the Carter Administration followed. Angelotti resigned Aug. 4.

Angelotti had been under fire from meat and livestock industry spokesmen for months. First complaints against him and demands he be fired followed hearings concerning proposed changes in meat grading procedure and also during hearings on the use of nitrates and nitrites as preservatives in meat products. Industry spokesmen described Angelotti's behavior at these hearings as "naughty" and "degrading" as he and his assistants laughed and joked among themselves about testimony presented by industry at the hearings.

USDA announced Butler would continue to serve as deputy assistant secretary for food and consumer services until a permanent head of FSQS is selected. Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Carol Tucker Foreman, under whose department FSQS operates said a new permanent administrator would be selected and said an intensive search for a suitable candidate would be initiated immediately.

effectiveness of these drugs in control of human ailments. With no proof it was planned to make such additives a matter of prescription from veterinarians. To Dr. Kennedy's credit he now says that evidence presented at hearings in Dallas, Texas, Raleigh, N. C. and Ames, Iowa, had cast doubt as to whether there were enough vets to handle the job since so many are not involved in livestock or poultry practice and there would be people and places unable to get a vet at all. Now there will be evidentiary hearings on the matter and since Dr. Kennedy broke the news of delay first to Sen. Herman Talmadge, chairman of the Senate Ag Committee and his committee members, it would appear discretion had a large part in Kennedy's new approach.

FDA Reconsideration Of Antibiotics In Feed Major Victory
that would sharply curtail the use of three antibiotics — Penicillin, chlorotetracycline and oxytetracycline — in animal feed. Further, the agency's plans to label all feeds containing the drugs and the requirement of a veterinarian's certificate to purchase such feed have been postponed indefinitely.

FDA will likely hold a formal meeting on the rules and will invite representatives from concerned groups to present further evidence. Thereafter, Kennedy said the rules would be "revised or withdrawn to better address the public's concerns."

Key points of TSRA opposition against these regulations were: "The use of low-level antibiotics in animal feed has been a common practice for the promotion of animal health and weight gain for more than 30 years without incident of resistance bacteria found in animals."

Anaplasmosis, one of the major diseases to cow/calf operation in the Southwest, is controlled by feeding low-level antibiotics. No alternative has been found at this time.

With only 5,000 large animal veterinarians in the U.S., obtaining prescriptions would be impractical for many producers and place feed companies in the drug business.

FDA administrator Donald Kennedy originally proposed these regulations because of "Theoretical evidence" that resistance could develop if antibiotics continue to be used by livestock producers. TSRA sharply opposed these restrictions because these regulations as proposed were without scientific fact.

Boysville Auction Set September 16 At San Antonio

San Antonio — Contributions to Boysville's biggest annual fund-raising event, its Charity Livestock Auction, are now being received by San Antonio's "home with a heart for homeless boys." Auction Chairman Tom Bell of the Texas Livestock Marketing Association has announced, "The 18th annual charity auction," said Bell, "will take place on Saturday, Sept. 16, at the San Antonio Union Stock Yards, 1718 S. San Marcos Street, beginning at 9 a.m. It will be preceded at 8:30 that morning with a breakfast for contributors on the stock yard grounds."

"The farm and ranch home for boys who have no home of their own presently is receiving donations of calves, pigs, goats, sheep, horses, bridges, saddles and anything that can be auctioned. Many individuals and firms are sending cash contributions to the home at P. O. Box 6646, San Antonio 78209, in lieu of livestock or merchandise."

Bell explained that Boysville, which is 100 per cent dependent on the general public for financial support, has had but one objective the past 55 years — to help neglected and dependent boys grow up into responsible adults and good citizens.

"If anyone needs to have their farm animal gifts picked up, they can call me at 513-226-2875 or Boysville at 693-6262," Bell said. "The auction, of course, is open to all without admission charge."

"We look for a big crowd at the auction which is always a lot of fun. As in the past, Boysville's Women's Auxiliary will have a colorful Country Store in the auction building at which they will be offering home-baked bread and pies, home-made jam, pickles, jellies, relishes, catfish, spaghetti and hamburger aprons, pillows, stuffed toys and much more."
